Senate May Open Own Tax Inquiry

More Data Uncovered On Outside Activities Of Revenue Agents

WASHINGTON, Oct 5—(AP)—An explosive double-barrelled probe of the nation's tax collection service loomed today as the House continued an investigation and the Senate indicated it may launch one of its own.

In the House, a ways and means subcommittee looked further into the sideline activities of James P Finnegan, former St. Louis collector of internal revenue who quit under fire last April.

The committee called John Martin Brodsky, said by witnesses to have been Finnegan's partner in an insurance agency which allegedly paid the tax official $6,193 during 1949 and 1950.

Finnegan denied yesterday he was ever in the insurance business, and may get a chance to testify further. He previously acknowledged receiving $2,250 from firms or persons in tax difficulties, but said these were legal fees for outside work.

In the Senate, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) called for a full-scale investigation by the Senate's special investigating subcommittee of all major revenue offices in the country.

Trouble in Detroit

His demand was touched off when Senator Moody (D-Mich) said there were reports of "serious irregularities" in the Detroit bureau.

Ferguson said irregularites have been uncovered in San Francisco, Boston, New York and now Detroit

Finnegan yesterday denied during the House committee hearing that he engaged in selling insurance, saying "I was never in the insurance business in my life."

After he left the witness stand, the committee called witnesses who testified that Finnegan or members of his family benefited to the extent of $6,193.11 from the Dudmar insurance agency headed by Brodsky.

The agency according to Rudolph H. Hartmann, senior intelligence agent of the St. Louis Bureau and other witnesses solicited firms and individuals in tax difficulties, or under investigation by Finnegan's office.

On at least one occasion, Brodsky is said to have represented himself as "from Mr. Finnegan's office."

Tells of Deal

Donald E Kelly, general agent of the John Hancock Mutual Insurance Co, St. Louis, told of one deal involving the Valley Steel Products Co., said to be having tax difficulties and one of the firms solicited by Brodsky.

Kelly said certain premiums were returned to the company when a policy for a minor employe was turned down. Included in the premiums returned, he said, was a check for $1,486 made out to the employe himself, identified as Philip Muennig.

Hartmann, the internal revenue special investigator, testified that Muennig's check was deposited

FINNEGAN DENIES. James P. Finnegan, former St. Louis Mo., internal revenue collector, turns his head at Washington, D. C, to answer a question put to him during investigation into alleged internal revenue irregularities. Finnegan said he received $2,500 from delinquent taxpayers in 1948 and 1949 but insisted they were law fees and were unrelated to tax matters.

Fire Partly DestroysGalion Factory Site

Eagle Crusher Co. Leveled Except For Office Building

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 5 — Fire destroyed all but the company offices in the Eagle Crusher Co. factory building in Galion today. The fire broke out at 9:15 a m

The loss to building and machinery has not yet been determined.

The fire occurred while workmen were heating a wax used in coating machine parts for overseas shipment. The wax heated over a gas furnace, ignited.

High Flames

Flames from the burning material shot 30 feet in the air. The frame building was destroyed in 30 minutes. Workmen inside the building said there was no explosion despite the speed with which the wax burned.

The company was housed in a single building, one end of which contained the offices. The entire building, except for the offices, was destroyed A paint shed and spray booth adjacent to the machine shop were saved.

A westerly wind aided firemen in saving the offices which are on the west side of the building, Fire Chief John Duresoki said. The loss was covered by insurance.

All trucks from the Galion fire department answered the call. A pumper from Crestline came to stand by in the Galion firehouse in case another alarm sounded while the Galion fire department was busy.

None Hurt

No one was injured in the blaze, witnessed by over 1,000 people.

When the fire broke out the workmen were waxing machine parts that were scheduled to be sent to Uruguay, South America.

Authorities Hunt Escaped Convict Near Prospect

Marion County sheriff's deputies, railroad detectives and Edward Fetter, village marshal at Prospect, combed the area around Prospect yesterday afternoon and evening in search of an escaped convict from the Ohio Penitentiary.

The man, who is believed to have walked away from a prison farm Wednesday, was picked up by Clifford Frost, C. & O. railroad detective, about two miles north of Prospect along the C. & O tracks, but escaped from him by leaping in front of a freight train onto the other side of the tracks.

Train Holds Up Pursuers

He made good his escape which pursuers were held up by the passing train.

Frost had apprehended the man, dressed in prison garb, after receiving a report from the C. & O. freight agent in Prospect that the convict was seen walking along the railroad right of way at about 2 p.m.

Both Frost and sheriff's deputies were called.

When the group arrived, Mr. Frost began walking along the road bed while the sheriff's car was dispatched north to meet him Mr. Frost said he found the man and began leading him to the car when the train approached.

Slips Out of Shirt

Frost was holding the man by the shoulder and as the train approached, the convict apparently unbuttoned his shirt. When he leaped across the track, Mr. Frost was left holding the shirt.

Mr. Frost said the prison number was on the shirt and he was checking on the identity of the escapee.

He said he believed the man was "Rocky" Southern. Southern walked away from an honor crew of prisoners at the Ohio Penitentiary Wednesday, just one week before he was to have been paroled. Southern was serving a 1 to 20 year sentence for auto theft. He is not considered dangerous, Mr. Frost added.

A search of the area after the train passed failed to show any trace of the man. Mr. Frost said he was running at top speed through a farm field when he lost sight of him as the train passed.

The search was continued until 10:30 last night.

Near Chinese Buildup Area

Reds Retreat In Two Sectors As Allies Push On

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA, Oct. 5—(AP)—Battered Chinese retreated in two sectors of the western front today as troops of nine nations pushed cautiously into a big Red buildup area in the Allies' new offensive.

An Eighth Army briefing officers mentioned gains by only two of the five Allied divisions involved in the three-day-old offensive. In both cases the Reds moved northward.

Other developments:

▶Simultaneously the quiet eastern front flared up with a slashing 1,000 yard Allied advance.

▶In the air war American pilots said they shot down one Red jet and damaged another in two swirling battles over northwest Korea involving 136 jet planes.

▶The only new cease-fire development was a statement attributed to North Korean political officers that there would be no negotiated peace in Korea in the near future. The Reds remained officially silent on Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's invitation to pick a new site for truce talks in no-man's-land.

The Allies' western offensive, powered by 100,000 men, racked up "limited gains by those U N. elements which are attacking," a briefing officer reported.

Take Key Hill

The U S. Third Division took a key hill in the center of the line without firing a shot. The Chinese who had defended it fiercely for six days vanished during the night.

At the southern end of the front Australian and British infantrymen of the First Commonwealth Division pushed forward against weakening opposition

Call Gunderson To Testify In RFC Hearing

Must Explain Motives in Dealings With Gabrielson

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5—(AP)—Investigating senators called Harvey J. Gunderson today to tell why—as a retiring government loan official—he allowed Republican National Chairman Guy G Gabrielson to boom him for president of the New York Stock Exchange.

Gabrielson testified yesterday he tried to get the job for Gunderson last year after President Truman had failed to reappoint Gunderson to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) board of directors.

The G O.P. chairman swore the fact he heads a firm which borrowed $18,500,000 from the RFC had nothing to do with his intercessions for Gunderson, who did not get the job.

Senator Nixon (R-Calif) told Gabrielson "the implication is that . . . it was an act of impropriety" if at any time thereafter "Gunderson was in position to do anything for the company."

Office Diary

Gunderson's office diary, introduced in evidence, lists 19 telephone talks and personal meetings with Gabrielson. Gabrielson testified these contacts probably all dealt with the $18,500,000 RFC loans to Carthage-Hydrocol, Inc., which the G.O.P. chairman heads.

The Senate investigations subcommittee, which heard the testimony, is looking into Gabrielson's relations with the RFC, a government lending agency. Gabrielson said he draws $15,000 a year salary as Hydrocol's president, and that his law firm receives another $10,000 from the company as its general counsel.

He insisted he has "no influence" with the RFC, and that it not only was proper but his duty to represent the firm in the negotiations.

Gabrielson said he had no intention to yield to demands from some Republican lawmakers that he resign his party post. He told a

Taft Awaiting Survey Result

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5—(AP)—Senator Taft said today he would withhold a decision on whether to run for the Republican presidential nomination until a survey of national sentiment is completed by two of his associates.

The Ohioan said he expects a report on this study next Wednesday and could not come to any decision until he has han an opportunity to study it.

Marion County Farm Shows ChampionBoar

A Berkshire boar owned by L. E. Mautz and Son of near Waldo was judged the grand champion boar of the National Futurity Berkshire Show and Sale held at Van Wert, O., yesterday.

The boar, named Blanders Prince, was shown by Wayne Yake, a junior in Waldo High School.

Mautz swine also won three other prizes and animals shown by Harold Yake and Sons of near Waldo won two prizes.

Mr. Mautz and Son won a first prize for the best March boar, third prize for a group of three best boars, and second prize for an April gilt.

Mr. Yake and Sons won second and third prizes for April boars.

The grand champion boar was sold to Ritter Bros. of Harrisburg, Pa., Mr. Mautz reported. The Mautz farm is located on Route 23 about six miles south of Marion. The farm exhibited the reserve champion boar in the 1947 show and the champion gilt in the 1948 show.

Road Collapse Laid To Kauer

COLUMBUS, Oct. 5—(AP)—State Rep. Clifton L. Caryl (R-Union), said today the collapse of a stretch of U. S. Route 36; in Tuscarawas County, is the fault of State Highway Director T. J. Kauer.

Following the collapse, two assistant engineers were suspended. The roadway crumbled 15 minutes after the first traffic went over it.

In a statement, Caryl said:

"I am convinced today the two assistant engineers and the contractor (Henry Holt and Sons of Columbus) were made the "fall guys" in the newest bit of highway department incompetency.

"The highway department has led the public to believe the contractor is guilty of failing to meet specifications.

"Actually, the reverse is true, and if anyone should be dismissed

Air Service Hearing Set Oct. 30

Representative From Marion Scheduled To Present Argument

Oral arguments in the Indiana-Ohio Local Air Service case will be heard by the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington, D. C. Oct. 30.

This will be the final proceeding before the CAB renders a decision in the controversial case which will decide whether or not a number of Ohio and Indiana cities will get local air service.

Marion will be represented at the Oct. 30 hearing, but the representative has not yet been selected.

Harry L Dowler, former mayor and Chamber of Commerce representative who has been working on the air service case, said the city will definitely ask for argument time at the hearing.

Many Protesting

Marion and a number of Ohio cities, along with the Ohio Aviation Board and several airlines are protesting a CAB examiner's recommendations in the case.

The examiner, R. Vernon Radcliffe, recommended the CAB turn down Lake Central Airline's request to extend service to a number of Ohio and Indiana cities including Marion. He also recommended that Trans World Airlines serve Marion and Mansfield on a joint basis. The airline now serves both cities and one of them would lose service if the recommendations are accepted by the board.

In his report, Radcliffe said he did not believe passenger and air freight potential in the area in question justified local service and the permitting Lake Central to extend its operations would cost the government considerable money in the form of air mail subsidies.

Object to Belief

This is the point on which most Ohio and Indiana communities base their objections. They believe there is a powerful local air travel potential in these communities.

Following the oral arguments the CAB will render its decision. This will probably be forthcoming by about Dec. 1, Marion authorities believe.

Parties who have already been allotted argument time on the day of the hearing are Lake Central Airlines Inc., Youngstown Airways Inc., Trans World Airlines, Inc, The Ohio Aviation Board, and the Chicago and Southern Air Lines Inc.

Time allotments for other parties must be requested by Oct. 23 and they will be allowed not more than 10 minutes for their arguments.

12 Face Draft In November

Marion County will be called on to send 12 men into the Army during November, The Associated Press reported today.

The entire state has been ordered to induct 2,946 men after a revised draft call. The number is 423 higher than the original call.

Quotas set for other counties in this area are as follows: Crawford, 15; Delaware, 14; Hardin, 11; Morrow, 5; Union, 7, and Wyandot, 7.

Time Ripe To Use Atomic Weapons, AEC Head Says

THIS YANKEE BATTERY ALSO IS PITCHING. While nation's attention is focussed on World Series, another Yankee team on the other side of the world in Korea goes into action in a different and deadly "game." ## Gordon Dean Cites Edge U. S. Holds

Shouldn't Hesitate, He Declares In West Coast Address

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5—(AP)—Gordon Dean, top U. S. atomic official, said today the United States has atomic weapons which can "cancel out" on the battlefield "any numerical advantage" of an enemy and that it need not hesitate or fear to use them.

Without indicating whether he had the Korean war specifically in mind, Dean said of the use of tactical atomic weapons:

"I think that when a situation arises where in our carefully considered judgment the use of any kind of a weapon is justified, we are now at the place where we should give serious consideration to the use of an atomic weapon, provided it can be used effectively from the military standpoint and that it is no more destructive than is necessary to meet the particular situation in question."

The Atomic Energy Commission chairman presented this bold new picture of American atomic power in an address prepared for a Founder's Day gathering at the University of South California.

Speaks Freely

In it he cast aside his previous official taciturnity and gave broad hints of the progress in atomic weapons.

Among other things, he said:

"We are entering an era where our power to wage warfare with atomic devices is so great, even in comparison with the recent past, that our fundamental concepts of what atomic warfare is and what it might mean to us must undergo revolutionary change. . . .

"In the past most of us have thought of atomic warfare in terms of intercontinental bombers striking at the great cities and industrial hearts of an enemy nation . . . This concept of atomic warfare, while still true, is now no longer the whole truth.

"It is but one kind of atomic warfare, and there is now a new, quite different kind, . . . much more promising as a means of halting aggressors without the risk of destroying large parts of the world in the process.

"Because of our great technological strides, we are now entering an era when the quantities of atomic weapons available to us will be so great, and the types so varied, that we may utilize them in many different ways heretofore not possible."

Point Reached Now

This country is now at the point, he continued, where it is "able to bring to bear on the aggressor himself—at the place of his aggression—the fruits of our technological capabilities, and to meet the invading force in the field with a firepower that should cancel out any numerical advantage he might enjoy."

In saying the U. S. should not hesitate to use these tactical weapons, Dean declared the Communists' whole atomic program may be designed to "cancel out this weapon (the atomic bomb) as a means of warfare" and thus permit them to utilize their manpower superiority in a "master plan to achieve world domination."

Using More Pork, Fish, Poultry

High Beef Prices Force Housewives to Substitute

CHICAGO, Oct. 5—(AP)—The hike in beef prices has turned the eyes of many housewives to pork, poultry and fish.

That was brought out today in an Associated Press survey of major cities across the nation.

The survey also raised—but did not answer—the question of whether the long climb in general prices had left consumers with a lowered resistance.

The survey indicated there was little complaining in the first few days of trade under the new beef ceilings.

Butchers in Washington, D. C., for instance, reported very little grumbling and few comments of any kind from customers. One meat cutter there philosophized:

"High prices undoubtedly have had a numbing effect."

One of the biggest chains in New York City noted increased price resistance only in the poorer neighborhoods.

"When people want beef they will pay the price until it gets too high, and then they will sacrifice on other grocery items to buy beef," said an Indianapolis butcher.

Scarce to Ample

Supplies of beef in retail outlets in the 12 large cities that were checked ranged from scarce to ample.

But there is plenty of other main-dish food on hand. The decline in the supply of beef coin-

Ship Breaks In Half, Sinks, Fear 17 Lost

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., Oct. 5—(AP)—The freighter Southern Isles broke into halves and sank early today. It carried a crew of 24 men. Hours afterward the Coast Guard reported seven men rescued and five bodies sighted.

Coast Guard headquarters here said the steamship Charlotte Lykes radioed that she had rescued seven of the Southern Isles' 24-member crew and had sighted the five bodies.

The Southern Isles broke into pieces about 200 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras, N. C. The Charlotte Lykes about one hour's steaming time from the stricken ship, rushed to the scene and put out life boats for searchers. One of the rescued men had a broken leg.

The Coast Guard cutter Cherokee, dispatched from Norfolk, Va., early this morning was expected to reach the area late this afternoon.

Largest in Marion County History

Complete 68.6 Miles Of Road Resurfacing Work

County Engineer Walter W. Johnson reported today that 68 6 miles, the largest road resurfacing program in Marion County's history, has been completed during the past week.

Last spring, after inspection of the wholesale damage caused by last winter's extreme weather, Mr. Johnson and the county commissioners worked out a program for drag treating roads with the most severe surface damage.

However, before the work could be started, the District Court of Appeals handed down a decision on the 1950 road program which had been held up by a suit filed by L. L. Clymer of near Marion. The court gave its approval of the commissioners' action in awarding a contract to the U. S. Construction Co. of Upper Sandusky for the 1950 work. As a result of this finding the contractor offered to complete the contract at the original prices, which were lower than 1951 quotations. This meant the revamping of the whole program, and to provide the additional funds needed it was necessary to curtail some of the usual county road department functions, such as weed mowing, bridge and guard-rail painting, and some construction work, Mr. Johnson said.

The revised program called for the drag treating of approximately 60 miles of county roads, the surface treating of 1.6 miles of Vernon Heights streets, and seven miles of township roads in Marion, Pleasant, Prospect, Montgomery, Grand and Scott Townships. The work was started June 18.

Upon completion, a cost analysis showed the county portion cost $128,792.72 and the townships paid a total of $13,287.13, Mr. Johnson said. Material used included 345,537 gallons of tar, 123,723 gallons of asphalt and 21,277 tons of stone.

In addition to the above, the county maintenance and repair forces have dug out and replaced numerous spots where "frost blisters" occurred. This required approximately 1,000 tons of stone to repair. Two and three crews of workmen have been patching black-top surfaces since last spring, and have used over 60,000 gallons of asphalt with approximately 5,000 tons of stone. This work is being continued as weather permits.

Churchman Addresses Ohio P.-T.A.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 5—(AP)—Communists pervert the meaning of the word freedom to their own ideological uses, Rev. Dr. Douglas Horton of New York City last night told delegates to the golden jubilee convention of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The executive secretary of the general council, Congregational Christian Churches of America, said "Our Communist foes pick up America's talk of freedom and fill people with perverted content. They say Americans have freedom to starve, freedom to be out of work, freedom for inter-racial hatred."

He spoke at a banquet for the delegates.

Today is the last day of the three-day convention.

The delegates elected Mrs. Lorin C. Staats of Athens, retiring first vice-president, as president.

Uncle Sam To Open Drive Nov. 11

Armed Services Seek Young Women Recruits

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

IF YOU are a healthy, unmarried woman between the ages of 18 and 35, you can expect some heavy wooing from Uncle Sam during the next few months

You'll be bombarded by radio, television billboards and the public prints—perhaps even by personal interview.

You'll be shown the blandishments of travel, adventure, romance, education and career training

There will be no doubt left in your mind, the campaign managers hope, that Uncle Sam loves you, wants you and needs you

The object of all this, of course, is to persuade you to put on a uniform

The opening guns of an all-out recruitment drive will be fired throughout the country November 11, with the goal of enlisting 112,000 women in all branches of the armed services by July, 1952

The present total of U S service women, including nurses, is 30,000.

* * *

IT SEEMS THE current women's recruitment drive has been something of a flop. The girls have turned a cold and fishy eye on the best lures of military life After all, they have had a wide choice of careers lately Business and industry have been bidding frantically for their services A good secretary these days can almost name her own salary and take her pick of jobs

The burgeoning bureaus in Washington have had to send teams out through the country to lure typists and secretaries into government jobs Business men have been tearing their hair and offering such things as daily cocktail parties and prospective husbands to reluctant stenos

Now the girls are to get both barrels of the latest promotional blast, designed to convince them that they'll find the end of the rainbow in military service.

There is no doubt that the need for service women is acute And the opportunities for specialized careers have been increased 100-fold At the beginning of World War II, only four jobs were open to WACS secretaries, cooks clerks and chauffeurs.

* * *

TODAY THE SERVICES list 359 different jobs open to women ranging all the way from radar and electronics to photography and automobile repair

It is stressed that young women enlisting in any branch of the services, but especially in the Women's Air Force, will have a high probability of overseas service.

Enlisted women and non-coms draw base pay ranging from $75 monthly pr vate's pay for the first four months of service to $198 45 for a master sergeant. An enlistment bonus is paid in advance, ranging from $90 for a three-year hitch to $360 for a six-year term Additional bonuses are paid for foreign service And all this, the government is quick to point out, is gravy, since food, quarters, clothing, dental and medical care are all free

Officers draw pay ranging from $213 75 for a second lieutenant to $456 for a lieutenant colonel, plus monthly subsistence and quarters allowances and increases after certain terms of service

* * *

BIGGEST ENLISTMENT drive is for the Women's Air Force, which now has 8 000 women, wants 48,000 WAC enrollment is now 11 000, with a goal of 30,000 WAVES have 5,000, want 10,000 There are 5 273 Army nurses, and 7,000 are needed An additional 2,000 WAF nurses are wanted to raise the total to 4,700 The Navy has 3,399 nurses, wants as many more as it can get

In addition, there is a big demand for enlistees in the Army and Air Force WMSC (Women's Medical Specialists Corps), which includes dieticians and physical and occupational therapists

So don t be surprised if a handsome young recruiting officer gives you the eye one of these fine days, and before you know it, you may f nd yourself in a uniform designed by Hatt e Carnegie (for the WAC) or Mainbocher (for the WAVES).

ROLLS A RECORD. When Mrs George Stewart picked up the galloping dominoes in a dice game at the Horseshoe Club in Las Vegas, Nev, she tossed them for forty-five minutes straight She threw 33 consecutive passes to top the old record of 28 Since she was new to the game all she won was $400, while side-betting gamblers were reported to have picked up $50,000.

Many Activities Planned For Annual Observance Of Fire Prevention Week

Fire Prevention Week begins Sunday and an extensive program of activities is planned in Marion to keep residents abreast of the latest developments in fire prevention.

Observance of the week in Marion is being sponsored by the Marion Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the schools and the Marion fire department.

Included in the activities will be an educational program in Marion County, city and parochial schools. children will be asked to conduct safety checks of their homes and farms and literature will be distributed illustrating what the children should look for.

Demonstration Planned

Highlight of Fire Prevention Week will be a display and demonstration of Marion's fire fighting equipment at the Central Junior High School lot next Friday at 3 p.m. Included in the display will be pumpers, ladder trucks, and other emergency equipment. The demonstration will be under the direction of Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt.

Members of the fire department will also check schools, stores and factories for fire hazards during the week.

In schools literature will be distributed, posters will be displayed, and a fire safety check list will be handed out to students. Students will be expected to fill out the forms and return them to the teachers.

Farm Safety Checks

Farm safety checks will be carried out by rural school children The 4-H Clubs and F.F.A. groups will put on fire prevention programs in some of the rural schools

L. Otis Porter is chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Fire Prevention Committee.

A seven-point program was outlined by Fire Chief Sifritt for fire safety. He quoted the National Fire Protection Association, sponsor of Fire Prevention Week, that nine out of ten fires could be avoided just by taking a few simple steps to eliminate common hazards.

Precautions Listed

Chief Sifritt urged that fire prevention be practiced in every home by:

1. Inspecting and cleaning the chimney at least once a year.
2. Keeping heating appparatus clean and replacing worn or defective parts promptly.
3. Repairing electrical equipment by qualified electricians at the first sign of trouble. Replace frayed cords on appliances. Don't overload circuits.
4. Being careful with cigarettes and matches. Keep matches out of reach of children.
5. Using fire-resistant roofing, such as asphalt shingles, which gives protection against flying sparks from the chimney or other sources.
6. Cleaning combustible rubbish out of the closets, the attic and basement. Turn in rags, papers and magazines for salvage.
7. Being careful with flammable liquids. Never take gasoline into the home for any purpose. Use a non-explosive and non-burning fluid such as carbon tetrachloride for removing spots from clothing.

Word From the Governors

THE thing Washington forgets and which may be the downfall of its one-big-government zealots is that local politicians keep their ears to the ground, too.

When state governors have a conference and adopt a resolution for repeal of Washington's high-handed control over welfare funds they are doing what they believe will be politically popular.

When Ohio's Governor Lausche makes a speech ripping the hide off Oscar R. Ewing, federal security administrator, for being in favor of high-handed control over welfare funds, he is doing what he believes will be politically popular. These things happened at the Gatlinburg, Tenn., conference.

There is a rising murmur of dissatisfaction against the assumption of authority by the federal government which never was clearly given to it by state and local government. When the assumed authority is used to cut off relief allotments from Indiana, because that state has decided to open relief rolls to public inspection, there is a flare of resentment. When Ohio is put in the squeeze because local authority in Harrison County refuses to administer relief according to Administrator Ewing in distant Washington, Ohio citizens begin to wonder what Mr. Ewing has been eating that makes him so high and mighty.

The governors of the 48 states are in politics. They are closer to the American people than the appointees who are the core of the super-state grinding out edicts and tax bills in Washington, D. C.

One, Two, Three—Testing

INTERMINGLED with the crack of Bobby Thompson's home run on Wednesday was repercussion of the Soviet Union's second atomic explosion.

Since the White House announcement referred to a second "bomb," it may be assumed that the first Russian explosion more than two years ago also was a bomb. Americans are assured that the evidence in both cases points only to ordinary nuclear fission, not the super-explosion which will be produced if and when the competitors learn how to set off a hydrogen bomb.

The Russian government's information about the atomic bombs set off by the United States is presumably as complete as this government's information about Russia's bombs. Thus, as of now, Russia knows that the United States is able to produce more explosions than its bomb exploders have produced, though the United States does not know why the Russians have produced only two. It might be because they have needed only two for their own information; it might be due to their lack of bombs. In this respect, the United States has left no room for doubt about its own supply. It has exploded so many bombs that Russia knows they are being produced in quantities.

There is no place for levity in commenting on the grim preparations of scientists and militarists to give politicians the power to blow up all the rest of us if they run amuck. But the possibility suggests itself that the politicians, who would be destroyed along with all the rest of us if this happened, may have decided to boom away at long range, in the manner of those Chinese generals of a happier day who preferred to do all their fighting in the abstract.

The Inflation Habit

REPORTS from the American Bankers Association have the professional operators who work with the country's monetary system all in agreement on one basic thing:

The United States is not going to depend on deflation to cure anything which ails it.

Starting from that point of certainty, any American can proceed to do his own thinking about the prospects of his own and the country's future.

First of all, when the government says it is against high prices it is kidding. It is not against high prices at all.

This government—every government—believes a little inflation is good for the electorate, in the same way that a little suffering is good for the soul. There is only one issue: how much is a little?

The trick in inflation since the beginning of monetary systems has been how to ease the money supply without ruining it. Anyone can start inflation, given a first-class war. Anyone can keep it going. But keeping it from wiping out the value of the money supply would be the best trick of the Christian era. No one has done it yet.

Don't bet that it is going to be seriously worked at by an administration which had its origin in the political unrest generated by deflation in the thirties and is building its hopes on the proposition that everybody is making so much money it would be gross ingratitude to vote against the party in power in 1952.

Russia's Atom Bombs

By David Lawrence

News of "Another One" Disturbs U. S.

WASHINGTON

THE REPORTERS who were clustered around a television set in the press room of the White House, watching the Dodgers-Giants baseball game, didn't want to be disturbed—but a super-sensational piece of information was given them officially and they had to scamper to their telephones to flash the news that the Soviets had exploded "another atomic bomb."

The incident may be said to be symbolic of the reaction of the American people — nobody in Free America wants to be disturbed by the unpleasant prospect of an atomic war.

LAWRENCE

If the truth were known, probably nobody in Russia wants to see atomic bombs dropped there either.

Yet neither the Russian people nor the American people are doing the things that have to be done to avert an atomic war.

About the only concrete reaction here was among members of the Senate and House, who began urging that our atomic program be stepped up with increased funds and that particular attention be given to the hydrogen bomb which, it is assured, the Russians haven't yet learned how to make.

With billions being spent for defense—and properly so — it might be thought that the most important task that would be under way in government would be a program to reach the hearts and minds of the Russian people. For the atom bomb itself is harmless —it is the hand that throws the bomb that must be persuaded not to throw it.

* * *

FOR YEARS NOW the American government has known that the Russian government does not reflect the wishes of the Russian people and that only a process of coercion keeps the men in the Kremlin in power.

For years, too, the world has known that war itself never settles anything and that, when the armies cease their fighting, the problems of reconstruction and the economic chaos that has been generated are bigger than the problems of war itself. Armies can be vanquished but peoples can not be destroyed.

Knowing that neither World War I nor World War II settled the problems that had arisen among the rapidly growing populations of the various countries involved, it might be thought that the No. 1 objective today would be to devise ways and means to prevent another war. But the idea of reaching the hearts and minds of peoples now caught temporarily in the trap of Communist imperialism has been bandied about in the democratic countries as if it were just a side issue. Thus the "Voice of America" has been relied upon to do this job. The theory of such a "Voice" is good, but the basic concept and the execution are faulty. What is needed is not more transmitters and buildings to house the "Voice of America" apparatus and personnel but new concepts of policy that are tuned to the realism of the situation in which the peoples of the satellite countries find themselves.

* * *

NOT LONG AGO the President showed his awareness of the problem to the extent that he set up a psychological warfare board under Gordon Gray, president of the University of North Carolina and formerly secretary of the army. Mr. Gray is an able man, but the setup will never work because it is just a piece of incidental governmental machinery. Instead of a representative on the new board from the Defense Department and another from the State Department to recommend and suggest programs of action in the psychological field, the board should consist of at least a dozen prominent Americans who are qualified by experience in these matters to undertake the direction of this tremendously vital counter-effort against an atomic war. The board should by statute be an integral part of the National Security Council.

The American people are helpless to speak to the Russian people except through agencies set up here for that purpose. But the agencies thus far set up are inadequate and can not do the job that has to be done. The Department of State, for instance, with bureaucratic zeal still insists on controlling the entire propaganda effort. Hence, the most important counter-move that could be made to prevent World War III fails even to get started on the comprehensive basis that it deserves.

* * *

THERE IS ENOUGH ingenuity in the world to persuade the peoples of the satellite countries not to tolerate tyrannical governments, but evidently there isn't enough imagination and boldness in the American government to put that job at the top of the agenda today. Maybe another atom bomb will have to be exploded by Russia before there is a shakeup here of the complacency that prevails inside the government and before advantage will be taken of the many opportunities arising every day to reach the peoples of the satellite nations.

Coming Struggle for States' Rights

By Raymond Moley

GATLINBURG, TENN.

THERE was plenty of political predicting and palaver at the 43rd annual Governors' Conference recently closed here, but beneath these harmless exercises is a cold war that grows warmer at every meeting of these representatives of the states. That war concerns the issue of states' rights and is very much deeper and broader than the civil rights concern of the southern states. It involves the whole front on which the federal government has been pushing back the states from the position to which they are entitled under the Constitution.

MOLEY

It was a northern Democrat who sounded the keynote on this point at the outset of the conference. The unpredictable Frank Lausche, governor of Ohio and chairman of the conference, bitterly protested the enlargement of Federal power through the growth of grants in aid. He pointed out that beginning in 1914 there has been a rapid increase of the flow of Federal money to the states—for agriculture, for vocational education, highways, school construction, and all sorts of welfare. This has grown to such an extent that about 20 percent of all money spent by the states comes from the federal government. At the same time, local governments, cities, counties and school districts have become humble dependents on state grants.

* * *

UNDER TRUMAN, who is the President of a party that is supposed to stand for states' rights, this trend has leaped ahead. In the past five years state grants to localities have doubled, and federal grants to states have tripled.

With this change the great federal establishment also has made great inroads on the powers of the states, for, as Lausche said: "With money goes power. With power goes control, and increasing central controls has been a grave danger to the American type of democracy—a type based on local self-government, local control, and direct civilian participation."

This money is not made in Washington. In fact, none of it is created by the federal government. It is collected from the states—from the citizens and industries of the states. The federal tax collector reaches into tax sources once within the province of state and local government.

* * *

HENCE THIS PROCESS of grabbing and giving operates on two fronts to weaken the citizens' control of his government. Every dollar taken away cuts down the capacity of the states to support themselves. And every dollar they receive acts as a narcotic which weakens their self-reliance and sense of responsibility.

Throughout the meetings here this resentment took specific form in the private comments of many governors and in their open protests. In a very lively session on social security and welfare, Governors Lee of Utah, Pyle of Arizona, Peterson of Nebraska, Talmadge of Georgia, Shivers of Texas, Byrnes of South Carolina, and again Lausche of Ohio gave point to the manner in which the federal government has arrogantly told the states to do its bidding or else be cut off from Federal money. These governors gave Federal Social Security Administrator Ewing three of the toughest hours of his life.

The protestors, it should be noted, were of both parties, and they were from the North as well as the South.

This is an issue with which Republicans might well make common cause with the South. It remains to be seen whether they will take advantage of it in 1952.

Extra Innings

By TRUMAN TWILL

HERE IS ONE baseball fan beginning to feel like that farmer in Maine who dreaded the prospect of going down to Bangor and getting drunk every spring. I am beginning to dread what baseball season does to me each year and the way I hate myself in the fall when it's all over.

I am full of remorse for all the long-winded arguments and all the hours piddled away watching my team — for all the foolish wagers dictated by wishful thinking and for all that energy expended on a project in utter futility.

But this is only because another baseball season is over and the infielders and outfielders have departed to wherever it is that they go in the winter months. Next spring all it will take to set the whole fabric of madness twitching again will be a routine item in the paper saying that the clubs are beginning to send out contracts.

That will be all the excuse needed to make me and millions of other silly slobs start yakking away as if no one ever had gone through an attack of baseball insanity before. And there is a reason for this, of course, though it is not usually mentioned above a whisper.

It is because in a mechanized civilization depending on routine most of us lead lives of quiet desperation—and that includes people with no apparent reason for feeling desperate. Into the dull and unrelieved monotony of existence, baseball reflects a little brightness, adventure and the envied glory of outstanding personal achievement.

We fans live and die a thousand deaths as our heroes strike out, or get on base. We pull down hard-hit balls just before they go over the fence for home runs. We scoop up grounders and start double plays. We spray base hits freely to all fields. We win the pennant and then go on to win the series. Phychologists call it "empathy." It's fun for us baseball fanatics.

When the leaves fall we try to ignore the fact that our heroes faded in the stretch and blew the works. Except for those fortunate enough to sustain their enthusiasm to football and later to basketball, we crawl back into our ruts of routine and start grinding our way in the direction of the nearest crocus, next March.

There are times when this letdown after the buildup seems silly and right now is it. My team didn't have it in the clutch. Matter of fact, it never had it at all —but all we foolish fans kidded ourselves into the happy illusion that luck would make up for an acute shortage of scoring punch. Annnh! How doped can a fan get?

Never again. This was once too often. Herewith, the pledge. I will never touch happy water again—not until late next February when winter seems interminable, everybody has the dying flitting-glories and a chump either has to believe in baseball or Santa Clause to preserve his morale.

And then! All bush leaguers will look heroic again. That will be the day. Slide, ya idiot.

Christian Pommert, a pioneer of Caledonia, was born in Baden, Germany in 1830. He was reared in Germany and prior to coming to America served three years in the Prussian Army. The ship that brought him to this country was 32 days on the ocean. He moved to Caledonia in 1852 and worked at shoemaking for several years. He then added two chairs and made boots and shoes, building up a substantial business.

Buried City Exhibit

CAIRO—(AP)—Wendell Phillips, American archeologist of Concord, Calif., told reporters here he would soon open a display at the Carnegie Museum, Pittsburgh, of objects found in the ancient city of Timnah buried under Arabian sands. One will be a gold neklace dating back more than 2,300 years. A number of bronze and alabaster statues will also be shown. An expedition led by Phillips found the buried city in 1949.

When 6,327 Worked for U. S.

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON

BACK IN 1816, the name, birthplace and pay check of everybody who worked for Uncle Sam from charwomen on up to the President—were published in one official record.

Prepared at the Department of State in compliance with a resolution of Congress, this was a record of all officers and agents, civil and military, in the service of the United States.

The register also carried the "names and condition of all ships and vessels belonging to the United States, and when and where built, together with a correct list of the presidents, cashiers and directors of the U. S. Bank and its branches."

These registers and those succeeding them are now housed in the Library of the Civil Service Commission. The first register, a slim little volume of 176 pages, contained only 6,327 names.

IT WAS IN going over these old registers that the Commission's librarian, Mrs. Mary V. Wenzel, brought to light a register of 1835 containing what she believes may be the first formal record of Abraham Lincoln as an official of the United States government. Mrs. Wenzel opened the register to page 265 to show me these words:

"Post Office Department—Illinois.

"New Salem . . . Postmaster—A. Lincoln . . . Compensation $55.70 per annum."

In 1816, Secretary of War William H. Crawford got $4,500; John Marshall, chief justice, $4,000, and Postmaster General Return J. Meigs $3,000.

Governors of the territories of Mississippi, Missouri, Illinois and Mighigan got $2,000, and John Quincy Adams, minister to England, $9,000. Our only other ministers — to France, Russia, Sweden, Spain and the Court of Portugal in Brazil, where the court had fled because of the Napoleonic wars—received the same. Thomas Munroe, superintendent of the city of Washington, earned $1,200.

* * *

IN 1879, the register had grown so large it had to be brought out in two volumes, and in 1907 all employes making under $2,000 were left out. Now the only persons listed are those occupying top advisory and supervisory positions.

The State Department prepared the register until it was turned over to the Census Bureau. In 1933 the commission began compiling it.

"If we printed the names of everybody who worked for the government today," Mrs. Wenzel said, "We'd have to build another Pentagon to house the volumes."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Psychopathic Patient

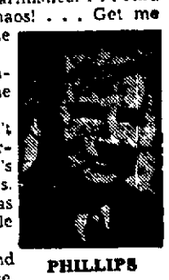
"Where are we now" . . . What day and what week? . . . How goes the battle? . . . And which battle? . . . Who? . . . Are you positive?" called the pop-eyed patient in the psychopathic ward.

"Take it easy," urged the puzzled doctor.

"No cease fire yet! . . . No armistice! . . . And after all this carnage and chaos! . . . Get me Trygve Lie!" demanded the patient.



PHILLIPS

"Korea, Iran or the Argentine?" the doctor asked the nurse.

"They said there wouldn't be a third world war!" interrupted the patient. "Where's Ernie Gross? . . . Where's Mrs. Roosevelt? . . . The U.N. has got to step in now and settle everything."

"Brooklyn, Manhattan and the Bronx," said the nurse, answering the doctor's query. "He's a baseball fan. Been following all the playoffs for a week and now he's in the world series."

"Ah, I see," said the medico. "Just another case of Playoffitis complicated by a bad attack of Seriesism. It's all over the nation. I just left a case where the patient slugged a nurse. Claimed she had cost the game by not sliding into third."

* * *

"Take out Mossadegh, the bum can't pitch! . . . Put in Three-fingered Jebb," yelled the patient who hadn't been sticking to the baseball news exclusively. "Where is Mohammed Reynolds? How about Sir Gladwyn Raschi? . . . Who's playing anyhow and have you got photostatics to prove it?"

"Relax," urged the doctor.

"I like the Dodgers, I mean the Giants. . . . No, the Dodgers. . . . What am I saying? . . . Get me copy of "Who's Who In the 1951 World Series! . . . And wire me confirmation. . . . Is there a Lippy Dressen in the house? . . . Where's Casey Durocher? . . . Or vice versa? . . . Listen, nurse!"

"Yes, what is it?" asked the nurse.

"Is my head on straight?"

"Approximately," she smiled. "Try to lie back and do as the doctor says."

"What doctor? . . . He's batting out of turn!" . . . Nurse, I'm taking you out . . . You're a right-hander. . . . I need a southpaw in this situation."

* * *

"Look, my good man," began the doctor.

"You're out!" roared the patient. "Clear the Brooklyn - Giant - Yankee-Iran-Kaesong bench! . . . Where am I now and is that by daylight saving or in our money? . . . Thirty days hath September, April, Woodling and Casey Stengel. . . . Nurse, you have two and three on you and had better hit the next one."

"He's got a temperature of 103," said the doctor.

"Yeah," cried the patient, "but it ain't good enough to win . . . somebody is apt to tie it up even this late. . . . Ouch! Ooh-h-h!"

"You seem to have a lot of gas in right field," said the doctor. "I don't like your pulse. . . . In a case like this maybe I'd better put in a new pulse, the young one we got from the farm club in August. . . . And your blood pressure has gone from 134 to second place in today's line-up."

* * *

It was now plain the doctor had been following the 1951 baseball situation too.

"Come on, get in here with me!" demanded the patient.

"Why not?" agreed the sawbones, ordering the nurse to cancel any instructions about pills and just bring in a catcher's mask, a new ball and a resin bag.

---

Would you say Harry Gross was "the Grosstest with the mostest on the bulls?" . . . Bob Christenberry, proprietor of the Astor, is the new head of boxing, and we hear that a guest called the desk the other day and demanded, "Send up the proprietor. The wife and I are having a fight and I want everything according to the rules." . . . A self-winding watch has been turned out for automobiles with a guarantee to tell the right time. That's odd. We felt certain there was an understanding whereby nothing but defective clocks were sold to automobile makers.

MRS. CARL W. SAWYER and Mrs. Lowell H. Guthery were associate hostesses when the Woman's Board of the Marion City Hospital opened the season Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James Arnold on Bradford street.

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK

WATCHES are the timeliest innovation in fashion

Thanks to new techniques by the watchmakers of Switzerland, chic ladies are turning their timepieces into important fashion accessories.

This winter, they'll wear their watch on their fingers, purses, pockets, lapels, waistlines and dangling from the dashboards of their autos.

There's a new motor timepiece with a rubber tire protecting the case against dashboard shock, an attached leather strap holds the ignition key.

Other original 1951 watches include an automatic pencil four inches long—with a watch concealed in the top side of the barrel; a watch which swivels from a red alligator leather sheath dangling from an alligator belt; an envelope shaped purse watch that flips open when you press the "flap," and dual-purpose timepieces concealed in everything from pen-knives to door key blanks.

Weddings

St. John's Lutheran Church at Windfall was the scene of the wedding Sunday, Sept. 23, of Miss Clara Elizabeth Heimlich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Heimlich of near Cardington, and Daryl Vernon McClenathan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClenathan, also of near Cardington.

Baskets of salmon colored gladioli and lighted candles decorated the altar of the church for the double ring ceremony read at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon by Rev. Luther Muehlbrad.

A program of nuptial music was presented preceding the ceremony by Mrs. Homer Ebert, organist, and Robert Heimlich, vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of blue nylon lace over blue taffeta, with the bodice made of nylon crepe. Rhinestones trimmed the yoke of the gown. She wore gray accessories and carried a bouquet of white glamellias tied with white ribbon streamers.

The bride's only attendant was Mrs. Geneva Yake, whose dress was fashioned like that of the bride. It was of gray nylon lace over pink taffeta with a gray nylon bodice. Her bouquet was of salmon colored glamellias tied with satin streamers.

Richard Heimlich, brother of the bride, served as best man, and ushers were Marvin and Junior Heimlich, brothers of the bride. Lighting the candles were Robert McClenathan and John McClenathan, brother and nephew of the bridegroom, respectively.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Serving were Miss Ruth Radel, Miss Esther Berringer and Mrs. Robert Heimlich. When the couple left on a wedding trip, Mrs. McClenathan was wearing a navy blue suit and a corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Both Mr. and Mrs McClenathan are graduates of Cardington High School. She is employed as a clerk with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. in Marion. Mr. McClenathan is a foreman at Motor Products.

Burglars Failed To Be Convinced

WATERTOWN, N. Y.—(UP)—Burglars who broke into the office of the Coca Cola Bottling Co. had to be convinced.

They smashed the concrete exterior coating of a vault, apparently with heavy hammers; knocked off the combination dial and battered the door hinges but failed to get through to the metal part. Finally they gave up.

On the front of the vault the management had placed this sign: "Burglar proof."

"He Hath Done All Things Well"

DEPARTING from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, Jesus came to the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the coasts of Decapolis. And they bring unto Him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech, and they beseech Him to put His hands upon him. And He took him aside from the multitude, and put His fingers into his ears, and He spit, and touched his tongue; and looking up to heaven, He sighed, and saith unto him, "Ephphata," that is, "Be Opened."

And straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain. And He charged them that they should tell no man: but the more He charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it.

And were beyond measure astonished, saying, "He hath done all things well, He maketh both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak."

—Taken from St. Mark 7, 31-37.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

DETROIT

THERE ARE some giants here doing some fast pitching of their own. They've a few surprises ready for fast delivery in the world series of these big time labor leagues — the showdown next month between Big Steel and Big Steel Labor.

If these leaders of giant C.I.O. unions can put their stuff across, then none of their followers will ever be without a paycheck. The American industrialist will be paying the grocery, milk and rent bills, among other things, for those of their working people who are forced to wait idly while the huge factories retool from cannons to convertibles or from one model to another.

That's the thinking in the C.I.O high command meeting in Walter Reuther's well-guarded Auto Union headquarters.

Victor Riesel

That's what is uppermost in the minds of the white - haired, ailing patriarch, Phil Murray, and the red-haired firebrand, Reuther. It can shake the nation, for these men have never been more fond of each other, nor have they worked together as closely as they do now —and between them they lead 2,000,000 men in the very vitals of America's industry.

They've been talking in a city where 200,000 men went without work the other weekend while Hudson, Ford, Chrysler and Packard shifted machinery. They've been talking in a city where only 110,000 of those will go back to work soon—leaving the others to scrounge for a living in a state where there'll be 130,000 on the jobless insurance lists by Christmas.

* * *

THEY'VE BEEN talking in a city where the biggest labor paper has headlines screaming: "We Want Jobs" and where the red-hots are trying to needle responsible union chiefs into crippling flash strikes.

They've been talking amid reports gathered by their researchers in Washington which, suddenly and dramatically, reveal there's no manpower shortage—war or no war. The experts were wrong in predicting window-crushing sieges of big stores this fall. There is a "sharp decline" instead in the demand for consumer items, because the people are jittery and won't buy unless they need the stuff.

If the prophets had been right —civilian production would be zooming now along with the tanks, guns and aircraft and there wouldn't be enough men to go round. But there are. And many of them haven't worked for weeks.

* * *

IT ALL BREAKS as Phil Murray, meeting with his lieutenants, devises his strategy for the assault on the booming big steel industry next month.

Certainly his United Steelworkers of America will ask for more money—a raise of some $10 to $15 a week for his one million followers. And certainly, he'll ask for higher pensions, perhaps up to $130 to $200 a month for the men who hit 65.

But what the C.I.O. dean wants most, as he talks again to his people of his personal retirement, is the guarantee that his followers will have a year-round pay check. Not just a guaranteed annual wage for some of them, but a guarantee from industry that it will support those men who are willing and able to work when there is no work for them.

Mr. Murray has been saying to his aides that something must be worked out that will care for the Steelworkers in transition from bullets to butter, just as the government cares for the guargantuan plants as they convert from war to peace. This is done by tax rebates and other subsidies.

* * *

THE STEEL, auto and other workers, however, must fall back on their temporary jobless insurance. They must wait around until recalled. Industry must pay for this waiting period, Murray believes. That's the gimmick which will be pitched at the steel industry when negotiations open next month.

There's no doubt that the Auto Union's power will back this concept.

Up in Flint, last Sunday, Reuther told the home folk in that town which once made revolutionary sit-down strike history, that his union was working on the guaranteed annual wage to be made on the entire auto industry soon.

"We are working on it," said the red-head, himself not well physically, although he has postponed a much-needed operation until after the national C.I.O. convention on November 5. "We're preparing our case very thoroughly before moving. We'll have an iron-clad case as we did in the union's pension drive."

There's labor history being made these few days—and the bill will run into the billions.

THIEF STEALS LEG BRACE OF POLIO VICTIM. Ronnie Morris, 2½-year-old polio victim, was also the victim of a mean thief who stole the child's specially fitted brace for his right leg. The brace was removed by the child's mother while he slept in the family car, returning from a visit to an aunt at Detroit, Mich. He was carried into his home and the brace forgotten until the next day when it was found missing. Ronnie unable to play, is consoled by his sister, Shelia, 6. His father is a factory worker.

Your Good Health

Guarding Eyesight of Babies

The sight of untold thousands of babies has been saved through the routine use of silver nitrate solution at birth. This method has been found so effective in preventing blindness due to gonorrheal infection of the eyes, that today it is standard practice in hospitals throughout the country. Some states have even passed laws requiring silver nitrate to be put into the eyes of all newborn infants.

Despite its great benefits, however, the use of silver nitrate has some minor drawbacks. Chief of these is the irritation it causes, with tearing and redness of the eyes, which persists anywhere from a day to several weeks. Of course, this can often be prevented by washing the eyes with water or a weak salt solution a few minutes after the silver nitrate is instilled.

Recently, studies were made to try to determine if any new substances might be used to lessen irritation of the eyes of the newborn. During a two-year period, 4,163 babies were tested with various substances to determine which one was most effective in preventing gonorrheal infection with the least irritation to the eyes. Of the substances tested, three proved equally effective in preventing gonorrheal infection.

The first method used was that in which silver nitrate was again tried; a second method was by the use of penicillin injections into a muscle, and the third method consisted in the use of penicillin ointment instilled in the eyes of the child at birth.

The incidence of eye irritation varied greatly with all three methods. Only about 10.6 percent of the infants treated with penicillin ointment showed any signs of inflammation or irritation to the eye. However, 13.8 percent of those treated with intramuscular penicillin had irritation or inflammation. In those infants receiving silver nitrate at birth, the amount of irritation and inflammation was almost 49 percent.

It was thought by many that penicillin ointment was easier to use than any of the other methods. Also, the cost of the penicillin ointment was not any greater than that of the silver nitrate.

Consideration has been given to the use in certain hospitals, of penicillin ointment in newborns, for the prevention of eye infections at birth, instead of silver nitrate solution, but as yet the silver nitrate method is required by most states.

25 Years Too Late

By Hal Boyle

YANKEE STADIUM

I HAVE just cheated 10,000,000 American kids.

I used up a seat in a ball park that ought to have gone to one of them.

All my life I wanted to see a World Series game, and now I have. And I feel just like a boy who has knocked at his girl friend's house—and found she's moved away.

Darn this world anyway. You get everything you want 25 years too late.

When I was a kid, my father, who had played a little semi-pro ball himself, was a great admirer of the New York Giants.

Hal Boyle

"Son," he used to say, "when you grow up you may take to stealing, you may break your mother's heart, and you may beat your wife in public. But promise me one thing—never sell the Giants short."

But I had a secret vice. I was a Yankee fan. And in my heart there was a shrine that said "Babe Ruth."

* * *

SO WHEN—ATER all these years—a friendly angel got me a ticket to the first World Series game between the Giants and the Yankees, I felt like one who is surprised by an old dream come suddenly true.

This excitement lasted through the first two innings. Then I noticed that the crowd of 65,673 was hardly making much more noise than the bystanders at a chess match. Where was their enthusiasm?

"It's always like that the first day," explained the man next to me. "The stands are full of big shots who want to brag about seeing the opening game. They don't dare holler for fear of raising their blood pressure."

* * *

AS THE GAME wore on I began to feel depressed. There were some brilliant plays, and it is always satisfying to see anything done well. But it was like watching a ballet.

And then I realized why I wasn't having the fun I'd looked for. I didn't really care which team won, and I didn't know the names of the players.

Those weren't the Yankees I had come to see. Somehow I guess I had subconsciously hoped that Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig would be out there, still hitting them hight and far.

"Where did Ruth knock his home runs?" I asked.

"The Babe?" said my neighbor. "You never saw the Babe hit a long one? He used to drop them there in the right field bleachers. And when he swung and missed—well, he still looked as good as anybody out there today."

WE TALKED ABOUT the old Yankees then, while the Giants finished clobbering the modern Yankees, 5 to 1. And it was more fun talking than watching.

As the game ended I dropped by a refreshment stand and put down a dime for a hot dog.

"Whaddaya want—half a one?" said the vendor.

Twenty cents for a hot dog? Baseball has changed in lots of ways. Well, anyway the mustard is still free and tastes as good as ever.

And tomorrow I'm going to buy me a record book and find out what's been going on in baseball. When the old heroes are gone, you have to find new heroes—or give up the game.

But I'll always be haunted by the ghost of the one who no longer knocks them a mile in the house that Ruth built.

Veterans and Draftees Guide — By Major Thomas M. Nial

From S. T. B., of Alemeda, Calif.: "How are payments for the new free indemnity made to beneficiaries of servicemen who die on active duty?"

In equal monthly installments over a period of 10 years. The rate is $9.29 per $1,000 of indemnity. The VA says the first check will cover the months since the serviceman's death so it will be larger than those which follow.

* * *

From Mrs. W. W. of LaCrosse, Wis. "My husband, a Pfc in the Army, is being shipped to Europe. Will he draw any overseas pay?"

Yes. Army enlisted men draw extra overseas pay as follows: Private $8, Pfc. $9, corporal $13, sergeant $16, sergeant 1st class $20 and master sergenat $22.50. Enlisted men in the other services draw the same pay that corresponds to their grade. Officers don't draw it in any of the services.

* * *

From K. C. M. of South Orange, N. J.: "I'm an airman in the Air Force volunteer reserve. Could I apply for active duty for just one year?"

No. The Air Force says you must volunteer for a minimum of 24 months. If you don't have that much time remaining on your extended enlistment, it says you must reenlist in the reserves.

* * *

From J. S. B. of Wichita, Kas.: "I'm a Navy veteran starting this fall as a freshman in an NROTC college. I'm not in NROTC but would like to get in it next year. Is this possible?"

Maybe. A man who has had active duty in ANY service may be admitted with advanced standing in NROTC, provided he won't yet be 25 on July 1 of the year he expects to finish a four-year college course without taking summer courses. You should apply for the Navy College Aptitude Test before the Nov. 17 deadline. If you qualify on the test, the Navy will then debide how much advanced standing you would get in NROTC.

* * *

From Mrs. A. V. N. of New York, N. Y. "My husband in the Army refused to make out a Class Q dependency allotment to me, so with the help of the Red Cross I applied for one myself to the Army Finance Center, St. Louis. Payments have started. Can my husband now have this allotment stopped?"

No. If he himself had authorized it, he could stop it any time.

* * *

From A. T. L. of Oak Park, Ill.: "It's been five months since I passed my preinduction physical exam. Will I have to be ordered up for another exam before I'm drafted?"

You can be ordered up for your actual induction without having to go through the entire preinduction procedure: Notice of Acceptability, a minimum 10-day wait, Orders for Induction, etc. But Army regulations require that at the induction station they give you an entire new physical exam, not just a checkup, if it's been more than 120 days since your last one. You'd be examined and inducted the same day.

Porter, Weimer To Head Chest Drive in County

ELMER WEIMER

L. OTIS PORTER

Forest Loudenslager, executive committee member of the 1952 Community Fund campaign, announced today L. Otis Porter and Elmer Weimer would lead the solicitation in the county.

"We've got a tremendous job to do in the county this year," stated Mr. Loudenslager. "Our share of the total goal of $97,764 for the 1952 Community Chest is $2,932.92."

"Our biggest job," he continued, "is pointing out to people living in the county how operation of the Red Feather Agencies benefits the entire population of Marion city and county. For instance, many county organizations meet at the Y.M.C.A.; over 17 percent of the boys and girls in Marion Boy and Girl Scout troops live in the county; the Salvation Army is constantly in the county doing much needed welfare work; and many men and women in uniform who will be benefited by U.S.O. funds come from the county area. All these agencies are Red Feather Agencies—and all of them need the support of the county.

"County solicitation is no ordinary job," Mr. Loudenslager said. "A man could easily travel 200 miles in a day just to make a few gratifying stops. Our first task is a good organization. We will need many volunteers from the county. It is indeed a pleasure to have Mr. Porter and Mr. Weimer helping us in this important work, and I feel sure that they will do a highly commendable job."

Train Hits Stalled Car In Prospect

Driver Leaves Auto Before Collision At Village Crossing

Chesapeake and Ohio railroad train struck an automobile which had stalled on the tracks crossing East Water street in Prospect yesterday at 6 p.m., the state highway patrol reported. Anna G. Hurd, driver of the car, got out of the vehicle before the train hit it. The right front end of the car was demolished.

Engineer of the train was Paul Brohard, 52, of Columbus.

Three persons were injured in Cardington last night at 9:15 when a truck driven by Carl A. Pecko, 42, of near Cardington struck the rear of a car driven by Grace Bell DeLong of Cardington.

Sales-Ad Club Hears Talk On 'Good Layouts'

Charles Ackerman of Cleveland, president of the Manning Studios there and a former resident of Marion, was guest speaker at the regular luncheon meeting of the Marion Sales-Ad Club Wednesday at Hotel Harding.

He spoke on "Making Good Layouts." Mr. Ackerman, a native of Marion, lived here until 10 years ago. He is a graduate of St. Mary High School. His father, Charles H. Ackerman, lived on Silver street until 10 years ago when he moved to California. He has been associated with the Manning Studios, a large commercial art concern, for several years.

Jay Maish Jr. was program chairman and introduced the speaker.

Guests were Cal Arnold, Ray Eckenrode, Carl Diebel, Charles Beicher, Robert Siple, Paul Streb, Gerald Robey and Miss Virginia Geddes, all guests of the Jay H. Maish Co., George Speece, guest of WMRN; Dudley Starr and Donald Hale, guests of the Howard Swink Advertising agency; and Thomas McNamara, guest of The Marion Star.

cides with the start of the fall season of plenty in pork.

Washington, D. C., reported a heavy run on poultry, fish and pork.

There were similar trends in some other communities.

A woman buying for a family of five in Seattle, Wash., scanned the price lists and said:

"Little by little we are being driven to a pork diet."

A meat market operator in an exclusive residential area of Denver summed up consumer reaction this way:

"Most women don't know the prices they used to pay for meat in comparison with what they're paying now. But they have been reading in the newspapers and hearing on the radio that beef prices are high.

"So they are trying to buy less beef. We never have sold as much pork, poultry and fish as we are now."

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) new order permitted retailers to change their beef prices Monday. It was an up-and-down adjustment. The changes ranged from a reduction of 20 cents a pound on some choice (high) grades to a hike of as much as 29 cents a pound on some utility (low) grades.

Increased Prices

But, over-all, it increased beef prices an average of 1½ to two cents a pound at the butcher's counter.

U. S. Department of Agriculture meat experts say the high prices reflect a demand that is greater than the supply.

Hunt Slayers Of Gambler Willie Moretti

4 Sought After Pal Of Costello Is Shot Down in Restaurant

CLIFFSIDE PARK, N. J., Oct. 5—(AP)—Authorities said today they are moving in a half-dozen directions to track down four killers of underworld chatterbox Willie Moretti.

Deputy attorney general Harry Towe said progress was being made although there were still no identified suspects nor a motive for the old-fashioned gangland slaying of the roly-poly gambler under subpoena to appear before a special rackets grand jury next Tuesday.

Towe made the statement after quizzing Albert Anastasia, former Brooklyn mobster who denies he once headed Murder, Inc., a group of hired gunmen. Anastasia, picked up at his Fort Lee home not far from the scene of the slaying, was released after saying he could offer no clues as to who pumped two .38 caliber bullets into Moretti's head in a local restaurant shortly before noon yesterday.

Underworld Figure

Moretti boasted that he was a pal of underworld czars Frank Costello, Lucky Luciano, Joe Adonis and the late Al Capone but he denied before the Senate crime committee that he was ever a director of Murder, Inc. He had been identified as such by former Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York.

Moretti, who had sold his $100,000 Hasbrouck Heights home and was reported ready to quit the state, was described as one of the committee's most cooperative witnesses by Sen. Estes Kefauver.

"It is pretty clear that Moretti talked too much and had been talking too much for too long," Kefauver said when he learned of the pudgy gambler's death. Rudolph Halley, former counsel of the committee, said that at one time Costello ordered Moretti to go to California because he talked too much.

Thus far Mrs. Dorothy Novack, who waited on Moretti and the four men she said were laughing and joking with him before she stepped into the kitchen and heard the shots, has been unable to pick out any of the quartet from rogue's gallery pictures. She is being held in protective custody.

Head of G.M. Proposes Dual Purpose Plants

CINCINNATI, Oct. 5—(AP)—The president of General Motors Corp., last night proposed an industrial preparedness program based on dual-purpose plants for a quick switch to war production.

C. E. Wilson told a convention of the American Ordnance Association the United States can not afford the time or money to acquire a new defense plant every time war threatens.

Wilson stressed that the proposed plants would give the nation security and put the emphasis on peace—not war.

They would avoid the expense and waste of building and maintaining large plants only for war production, he said. And they would avoid creating and maintaining businesses whose interests and profits depend entirely on war production.

Before his speech, the Cincinnati branch of the association awarded Wilson a gold medal for "distinguished ordnance service."

Wilson urged the association to support the dual-purpose plant idea as a part of its program of promoting industrial preparedness.

Wounded Korea Vet Says Unit Was Strafed by Navy Fighter

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Oct. 5—(AP)—A hospitalized Korean war veteran says that a strafing Navy plane shot off his left hand and killed or wounded an estimated 40 other members of his rifle company.

The account of an apparent mix-up came from Pvt. Peter K. Pivato, 22, of Cleveland. He arrived at Percy Jones General Hospital here yesterday after being flown back from Japan.

The soldier's story has been denied by a qualified source of the Far East Naval Command. The source said that the command had no planes in the area at the time described by Povato.

A confidential report, however, has been sent to Secretary of the Navy in Washington, this source said.

Pvt. Pivato, a husky 175-pounder, said the incident occurred on Hill 682, near Kumcha in eastern Korea, shortly after noon on Sept. 9.

His company (Co. F, 35th Infantry Regiment, 25th Infantry Division) had taken the hill earlier, he said, and was resting after "noon chow."

A Navy Corsair fighter, one of a group of four that had been strafing nearby hills, suddenly made one pass at his company's ridge he said. The ship fired .50 caliber bullets, he said.

One slug, he said, struck his left arm near his wrist, almost severing his hand.

"Maybe 40 other G.I.'s were wounded or killed," he said.

Pivato was philosophical. "It's just one of those things that happen in a war," he said.

End Hearing On Divorce

Ask Verdict Be Set Aside

A hearing was concluded yesterday in Marion County Common Pleas Court on a motion filed by Mrs. Claribel K. Grumblatt to have a divorce verdict set aside.

The three-day hearing was opened Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Grumblatt's former husband, Walter Grumblatt, was granted a divorce by Common Pleas Court Judge Paul D. Smith on grounds of gross neglect of duty after a hearing held last May 5.

A motion was filed by Mrs. Grumblatt through her attorneys, Strelitz, Halberstein and Mitchell, to have the case re-opened and the former verdict set aside.

During the hearing Mrs. Grumblatt alleged she had failed to receive an equitable distribution of property acquired during their marriage. Mr. Grumblatt was awarded custody of two children, one four and one eight, except for the month of August when the custody reverts to Mrs. Grumblatt.

Judge Smith will not return a verdict until briefs have been filed by attorneys for both parties. A 10-day period was set for the defendant's attorneys to file after a transcription of the testimony is available. Another 10-day period was set for the attorneys for the plaintiff to file their briefs. A verdict will be returned by Judge Smith only after these briefs are filed.

During the hearing, Mrs. Grumblatt alleged she had signed the orginal separation agreement setting up the property distribution under duress. She feels the settlement was unfair and asks further distribution of the property which includes the Midtown Chevrolet Co., owned by Mr. Grumblatt.

Attorneys for Mr. Grumblatt are Guthery, Harmon and Conkle.

Caryl said he was convinced the contractor was forced to comply with faulty plans and specifications, drawn by the highway department.

Caryl sponsored a resolution in the House at the last legislative session, for an investigation of the highway department. It was passed by both houses but vetoed by Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Rep. Caryl said:

"As I have said many times in the past, the state highway department spends millions and millions of dollars—my last tally was more than $40,000,000 in the past 12 years—for plans and surveys and specifications, most of which never are used and some of which certainly are faulty."

He added, "one administration will squander millions on plans and surveys and the succeeding regime will throw them out and start all over again."

Engineers To Work on Noise, Smoke Puzzle

Engineers of the Central Soya Co. of Ft. Wayne, Ind. are scheduled to study smoke and noise problems of the McMillen Feed Mill plant in Marion, Mayor Harold F. Robinson said today. McMillen is a subsidiary of Central Soya.

This was the outgrowth of talks between Central Soya President Fred W. Thomas, Board Chairman D. W. McMillen Sr., and Mayor Robinson and Safety Service Director Ralph Forrest, who journeyed to Fort Wayne yesterday.

Residents in the area of McMillen's Farming street plant have complained of smoke and noise to councilmen and the mayor.

At the last meeting of city council Mayor Robinson told council that he would take up the matter personally.

Mayor Robinson said he also planned to meet with officials of other Marion companies and discuss the problem of smoke and soot.

The problem of fly-ash from the McMillen plant has been eliminated with the installation of ash collecting equipment in early July.

Jessup's Stand On Red China Is Questioned

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5—(AP)—Ambassador Philip C. Jessup's sworn assertion he never has favored U. S recognition of Red China was described by Senator Brewster (R-Me) today as testimony which "raises some serious questions."

Jessup made the statement last night to a Senate foreign relations subcommittee studing his nomination by President Truman as a delegate to the United Nations.

The ambassador-at-large, a top aide to Secretary of State Acheson, also declared the United States "has never considered the recognition of Communist China." Jessup called it "a sound policy."

Brewster said the testimony about recognition of Red China put Jessup in the position of taking issue with three other persons, including Republican leader Harold E. Stassen.

The subcommittee summoned Jessup for more questioning today after receiving word from Stassen that he would be unable to come before it until next week.

However, Stassen will make a second appearance tomorrow before the Senate's internal security subcommittee. He told that group last Monday that Jessup informed him two years ago he felt "the greater logic" was on the side of a group which Stassen said favored recognition of the Peiping Red regime.

Marion Exchange Club Gives $500 To Hospital

A CHECK FOR THE PURCHASE OF THREE pieces of hospital equipment is presented by Frank W. Phillips, left, to James Mautz, center, administrator of the Marion City Hospital. Funds for the donation were raised by the Exchange Club Home Show last spring, of which John Salisbury, right, was chairman. The check will be used for the purchase of two suction machines and a Pneophore oxygen regulator. The device in the foreground is a suction machine already owned by the hospital.

* * *

Three pieces of hospital equipment, amounting to approximately $500 in value, will be purchased by James Mautz, administrator of Marion City Hospital, with a check presented to him recently by Frank W. Phillips, president of the Marion Exchange Club.

The money was raised in a Home Show last spring which the Exchange Club sponsored for the benefit of the hospital.

Another service project, the Civic Drama Festival, is being sponsored by the club this fall Proceeds from the sale of membership subscriptions in the festival, which will include three plays presented in Marion by professional New York casts, will be donated to the Juvenile Court for the support of wards of the court

The Three Plays

The series of plays includes "Darkness at Noon" Nov. 8, "Voice of the Turtle" Dec. 20, and "Heaven Can Wait" Feb. 28. Season memberships can be purchased from any member of the Exchange Club or in various places of business. Tickets cost $6.15, tax included, for the reserve section and $3.69 for the unreserved section.

The equipment to be purchased for the hospital includes two suction machines and a Pneophore oxygen regulator. The major use of the suction devices is to remove mucus after operations, although they can also be used as stomach pumps.

Regulates Pressure

The Pneophore regulates the positive pressure and demand flow of oxygen and is used in treatment of severe asthma, certain types of heart disease, and upper respiratory infections. A mask is attached to the face of the patient and a hose attached from the mask to a regulator, which in turn is fastened to a tank of oxygen. The machine works by a flutter valve principle, so that the patient receives oxygen only when he needs it.

Mr. Mautz has pointed out that the new equipment being purchased is portable and can be moved in case a new hospital is built.

ON O.S.U. HONOR ROLL

Wood, secretary of the college, announced today. They are John F. Greeneisen of Marysville and Samuel F. Long of Waldo.

Resignations Cause Shortage on Galion Police Force

Special to The Star

GALION—The resignation of Charles H. Weber as patrolman on the Galion police force, Wednesday, brings the total of resignations to three in the past 15 months. There are now two positions to be filled in the department. City ordinance provides a total of 11 men, and Weber's resignation which is effective Oct. 8 will leave the department with nine men.

The Civil Service Commission will meet tonight and it is possible that it will receive a request to hold an examination for the jobs. When the examination was given the last time, only one man took it. He has since decided not to continue in police work

Weber who has had several years as a city policeman, and Dave Marshall of Galion have taken over the management of a Galion service station.

In July, C. Joel Shupp with nearly a year on the force, resigned to enter the restaurant business in Elyria. In July 1950 the department lost Charles Lauer with 10 years of service who was then serving as captain.

Observe Newspaper Week

Elks Call For Release Of Correspondent Oatis

Marion Lodge No. 32, B. P. O. Elks last night passed a resolution calling for the release of William N. Oatis, American newsman held prisoner by the Communist government in Czechoslovakia.

The resolution was adopted by unanimous vote of the lodge members during a regular meeting following a dinner meeting in observance of National Newspaper Week.

During the dinner, Lodge No. 32 was host to Marion newsmen. The local observance was part of a nationwide program of the order to pay tribute to the press.

Representatives of The Marion Star and Radio Station WMRN were guests of the lodge. Joe Ionne, news editor, represented the local radio station while attending from The Star were Harry S. Elliott, managing editor; William R. Diem, city editor; A. L. McClain, sports editor; John Short and Emory J. Anderson, reporters.

James C. Woods, business manager of The Star, sent greetings to the lodge membership. He was unable to attend because of arrival at his home of guests from a distance.

Haldeman Presides

Robert G. Haldeman, exalted ruler of the lodge, served as master of ceremonies for the dinner.

He introduced Walter D. Moore, lodge member, who briefly reviewed the Grand Lodge's purpose in observing National Newspaper Week.

Mr. Haldeman then introduced Mr. Elliott, who gave a brief address. He compared the free American newspapers with those in Communist-controlled countries and introduced members of The Star staff. Mr. Elliott, himself a member of Lodge 32, is a past exalted ruler of the lodge. He held that office in 1911-12.

Vernon M. Dutton, long-time member of the Elks Lodge, was presented a past exalted ruler's pin by Mr. Haldeman. Mr. Dutton has been a member of Marion lodge since 1911 and has filled all of the chairs. He recently retired as deputy Marion County engineer and plans to leave Marion for Florida early in November.

Will Be Sent Truman

During the lodge meeting, the resolution calling for the release of Oatis was adopted unanimously. A copy of the resolution, pledging the full support of the Marion lodge, will be forwarded to President Truman.

Oatis, chief of The Associated Press bureau at Prague, was arrested by the Communists April 23. During the next 70 days before his trial on July 2 he was not permitted to see a representative of the American government. Cigarets sent him by the U. S. Embassy were returned.

A five-man court returned the expected guilty verdict July 4 and Oatis was sentenced to a 10-year prison term. The prosecutor during the trial charged Oatis as being "particularly dangerous because of his discretion and his insistence on obtaining only accurate correct verified information." No representative of the United States has been permitted to speak to Oatis to this date.

The resolution terms the arrest a travesty of justice by any civilized standards and an obvious propaganda effort designed to embarrass the United States.

Chocolate Sponge Checkerboard Tasty Cake

SOUND the trumpets and beat the drums! A regal-looking dessert like this deserves a regal introduction. Based on an old-fashioned checker game, this new idea in cakes, chocolate sponge checkerboard, is delectable and intriguing enough to set before a king.

CHOCOLATE SPONGE CHECKERBOARD

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
2/3 cup sugar
¼ t salt
1½ cups milk
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten
3 egg whites, unbeaten
Few drops peppermint extract
¾ cup shredded coconut, cut
Sponge or white cake, cut in 18 one-inch cubes
1/3 to ½ cup heavy cream, whipped and sweetened

Mix gelatin, 1/3 cup of sugar, salt and milk in top of double boiler. Add chocolate. Cook over hot water until chocolate is melted and gelatin is thoroughly dissolved. Blend well with rotary egg beater. Pour slowly over egg yolks, stirring constantly. Return mixture to double boiler and cook 3 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Cool 10 minutes.

Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add remaining 1/3 cup sugar gradually and continue beating until mixture will stand in stiff peaks. Fold in chocolate mixture gradually, blending well. Add peppermint extract and coconut. Turn into 8 by 8 by 2-inch baking dish. Press cubes of cake into top of mixture to make gingerbread design. Chill until firm. Cut in squares to serve. Pile servings of the chocolate sponge mixture. Garnish with pecan halves. Makes nine servings.

Marion Man Speaks To Area Recruiters

Melvin G. Weston of 564 Oak street, agency supervisor for the Jefferson National Life Insurance Co., was guest speaker Saturday at a meeting in Columbus of U. S. Army and Air Force recruiters in the Columbus recruiting district.

Mr. Weston was one of the first civilian speakers to be invited to address the regular meeting of some 40 recruiters from 32 counties in the district.

He spoke on "Selling Intangibles" and compared the methods of selling insurance to those used by recruiters in selling the various branches of the Armed Forces. He emphasized work and prospecting as the two big factors in selling any intangible item.

"Ride" Victim, Judge Rules In Estate Hearing

Claims Former Magnate Victim Of Unscrupulous Wife

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 5—(AP)—A probate judge says Michael J. (Mike) Kelley, one-time minor league baseball magnate, is incompetent to handle his estimated $500,000 estate and that Kelley's new wife is "an unscrupulous divorcee."

Judge James G. Kehoe, who yesterday declared Kelley incompetent, appointed temporary guardians for Kelley and his estate and ordered that steps be taken to have the marriage annulled.

Mrs. Louise McDonald Kelley, 45, married to the 75-year-old Kelley Sept. 11 in a rushed ceremony, said through an attorney she may appeal the ruling to the State Supreme Court.

Divorcee

Judge Kehoe called Mrs. Kelley "an unscrupulous divorcee with bottles of whiskey to feed him (Kelley) until he dies."

The judge held that Kelley "by reason of old age, loss, deterioration and imperfection of mental faculties, and excessive drinking of alcoholic liquor over a period of many years, is mentally incompetent to have the charge and management of his person and estate."

He said Kelley "certainly needs the protection of the courts."

Kelley's latest will made on Sept. 10, the day before his marriage to Mrs. McDonald, was introduced in testimony during the guardianship hearing. In it, Kelley left everything but two $1,000 bequests to his wife.

In a memorandum attached to his order, Judge Kehoe said Kelley's drinking gradually increased after his first wife died last February. The judge said Mrs. McDonald started to associate with Kelley early last spring and soon proposed that Kelley make a will, marry her and adopt her daughter.

Cleared Them Out

When Kelley's attorney, his chauffeur and his sister, Margaret, 81, objected, "Louise proceeded to clear them all out and employ another attorney who would go along with her in the matter," Judge Kehoe said.

Miss Kelley started the guardianship proceedings. A hearing on appointment of permanent guardians will be held on Oct. 10.

Kelley was prominent in the American Association Baseball League for many years. He sold his Minneapolis team in 1947. It is now a New York Giants farm club.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

My father's answer to my whispered assurance was a convulsive hug and a kiss upon my cheek.

"Thank you, my darling daughter," he murmured huskily. "As always, you have brought cheer to me."

"I'm so glad," I murmured back, and then went over to the chairs where Hank and Bess Conway were carrying on a merry conversation.

Hank rose as I paused in front of them, and Bess looked up at me with mirthful understanding in her eyes.

"Dollars to doughnuts (definitely dated)" she said, "you have a message to me from the Chief."

"You're clairvoyant," I told her. "He does wish to see you as soon as it is convenient for you." I grinned at that one, and she gave me an answering grin.

"It had better be convenient, don't you think?" she asked demurely.

"I agree with you completely," I told her as she rose and went back with me to my father's chair.

"He wants to see you alone," I whispered as we walked, "so I told him to take you into the room you and Mildred are occupying."

"Lucky we hung up our pajamas and sich," she whispered back, and then my father, rising from his chair, was greeting us both with his usual formal courtesy.

"I shall not keep you long," he assured Bess when the greetings were over, "but I must brief you some more on that other case, the one which I hope we can finish before you have to go to New Haven."

"I sincerely echo your wish," she told him smiling, and then with his hand under her elbow, he walked with her to my room, and the door closed behind them.

At its closing Lillian came over to me, sitting down in the chair my father had left.

"Anything new?" she asked. "I'm always leery when the Chief hauls somebody into private conference. I've learned from long and grim experience that you can expect anything to come out of his net, from a bootlegger to a top drawer murderous spy, usually with the well-known devil to pay, and not pitch hot, and if that quotation isn't correct, you can eat it. I won't!"

I laughed with the feeling of relief from tension that Lillian's nonsense always gives me. Patently she was being flippant in a planned effort to loosen her own taunt nerves and mine.

"I don't know any details," I told her, "I only know that it is nothing about this case. He wants to talk about another task he wants her to finish, if possible, before she tackles the New Haven thing."

"My word!" Lillian commented "The old boy isn't losing any of his go-get-a-tiveness. With all due respect for your revered progenitor—and that's another word you can eat if it's wrong — the famed Simon Legree was a piker compared to your dad I hope the alluring Bess has something soothing ready to rub into her slashed shoulders, when the Chief hauls out his cat-o-nine tails to speed up her action."

"She probably has everything in readiness," I said. "And like all his other slaves, she appears to have a strong affection for him."

"We're like the old martyrs," Lillian retored. "We kiss our crosses. But I do wish I knew how this thing was coming out."

I spread my hands in a gesture of futility.

"Do you think you're alone in that wish?" I asked.

CONFERENCE PLANNED

Plans were made at a recent meeting of Buckeye Aerie No. 337 of Eagles for a delegation of about 40 members to attend a district conference Oct. 14 at Delaware, Secretary Charles Way reported today. Preliminary plans for the annual Damon Runyan Cancer Fund Frolic were also discussed. The frolic is set for Oct. 27.

Knox County Grand Jury After Gamblers

MT. VERNON, O., Oct. 5—(AP)—Common Pleas Judge J. D. McDevitt yesterday charged the Knox County grand jury to investigate any and all gambling cases it thinks advisable.

Prosecutor C. J. Lester said the jury session will last at least four days.

Judge McDevitt warned the jury against injuring the reputations of innocent people.

"You find sometimes a class of persons who are eager to start criminal proceedings on inadequate evidence," he said.

The jury will consider indictments against four persons arrested in raids last month on charges of possessing slot machines. Twenty-four others arrested in the raids were fined.

Test Plants Operating in West

U. S. Seen Step Nearer Use of Synthetic Fuels

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, Oct. 4—(AP)—Synthetic fuel for the nation's cars, industry and war machine seems a step nearer today.

If synthetic fuel becomes a commercial reality in the plants proposed in Illinois and Colorado, the United States could rely on its vast coal, lignite, and shale deposits for years to come. This would free it from fear of strangulation if war cut off world supplies of natural oil, or from possible drying up of America's own oil reserves—even though that would be in the distant future.

Petroleum — and the power that comes from it in gasoline, fuel oil, and the vast number of petrochemicals from which many of our plastics and synthetics derive—plays a great part in world politics today.

Right now the world worries lest Britain's loss of Iran's oil — and Russia's lust for it—spark the next war. And America worries lest such a war, with its great demands for fuel, might strain her own natural oil reserves.

* * *

THE BIG QUESTION is whether synthetic gasoline and chemicals can be made from coal, shale and lignite economically. A very large segment of leaders in the fuel industries, and some government men, say it can't yet. They regard attempts to do it now, with government aid, as a drain on the taxpayer.

But others say the synthetic process has been improved until it is now possible to produce chemicals and gasoline from coal and shale at a price competitive with petroleum. And they add that this country has enough coal to provide the nation with a thousand years' supply of gasoline, enough shale in the Rockies for 135 years of gasoline, enough lignite "to operate American industry 400 years."

The Illinois project would be in southern Illinois where 38,000 acres of coal lands are under option to Colchem Corp., which proposes to build a plant to turn the coal into petrochemicals and synthetic coal. The company wants the government to guarantee a minimum price for its products—if it can't sell to industry at higher prices, of course.

Interior secretary Chapman wants the government to approve such aid—which is similar to guarantees which the government has been giving companies to get them to work, low-grade ores of copper and other scarce metals.

* * *

THE PROCESS TO be used at the proposed plant would be like that the government uses in its $25-million demonstration plant at Louisiana, Mo. Here it produces gasoline by adding hydrogen to coal and then refining the product through many steps.

This differs from the German synthetic process, the Fischer-Tropsch method, which burns coal in live steam and pure oxygen to form gas and ashes. The gas is then converted into gasoline. The Germans got 10,000 barrels of gasoline a day that way during the war. And the Chemische Industrie, a Frankfort, Germany, trade paper, says improvements on that process have reduced costs to a point where the six plants in western Germany may get a new lease on life and start turning out synthetic fuel again.

The Colorado project which Chapman also favors might follow in the footsteps of the Bureau of Mines' demonstration plant at Rifle, Colorado.

Vast deposits of oil-bearing shale are being tapped there. The costs of refining oil products from this shale have been reduced to 8.4 cents a gallon, bureau spokesmen say, but they admit that gasoline alone would cost more than that.

However, they see great possibilities in sale of Diesel fuel to the western railroads. Until now, anyway, the cost of transporting the synthetic fuel products from Colorado to the industrial West Coast or Midwest has been the biggest stumbling block in starting a commercial shale plant in the Rockies.

* * *

THE BUREAU OF mines and the University of North Dakota started some time ago to experiment at a $750,000 laboratory at Grand Forks, N. D., on the making of a new gas from lignite, a low-order coal containing about 35 percent water. The nation has about nine billion tone of lignite to draw from.

Much pilot work has also been done by industry on the extraction of synthetic gasoline from natural gas. A commercial plant at Brownsville, Texas, has been built but is still ironing out some of the production bugs before going into full operation.

And extensive experiments have been done in the South on making gas by burning coal underground, to avoid the costs of mining coal.

All of these together indicate that in case of war—when cost would not be the consideration—the nation could get along, even if all outside oil was cut off. The question is: can we do it economically now? Or should we do it even if costly, to save our oil reserves?

PROSPECT SERVICE

Celebration of communion will be part of the morning worship at St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Prospect Sunday. The sermon will be "Many Called, but Few Are Chosen." Wednesday night, the Luther League will meet, with Miss Marjorie Behrens as hostess. Guest speaker will be Richard Myer who will report on the recent Luther League convention at Lansing, Mich. The Missionary Aid Society will meet Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Paul B. Gast, hostess. "The Reformation" will be the lesson topic. Plans are being made for annual Church-Family dinner following the service Oct. 14.

MORRAL CLASS MEETS

Guest night was held by the Home Builders Class of Morral Methodist Church Tuesday night at the Church Center. Group singing opened the meeting, followed by Scripture by Mrs. Mae Wood and prayer by Mrs. Wilson Massie. # Bucks Set for M.S.C. With Janowicz Calling Signals

COLUMBUS, O., Oct 5—(AP)—Ohio State's All-American Vic Janowicz will call the shots tomorrow when the Bucks meet the Michigan State University Spartans at O S U Stadium

Janowicz will be the traffic manager from the halfback spot Tony Curcillo, Janowicz's Elyria High School teammate, will continue to shout the numbers from the Ohio State T formation, but it will be Janowicz who says who goes where and when, Coach Woody Hayes said yesterday

The halfback will be carrying one of the heaviest loads a player ever has been called upon to shoulder

In last week's 7-0 win over Southern Methodist Janowicz lugged leather 14 times for 63 yards, completed two of five passes for 25, punted for 241 booted the extra point kicked off into the end zone twice, intercepted a pass in his own end zone to stop an S M U drive, and recovered a fumble

He played almost the entire game and when not carrying, had S M U. defenders decoyed nicely

Dress Scrimmages

Coach Woody Hayes who held two full dress scrimmages this week seemed satisfied his Bucks have erased any errors which cropped up against S M U. last week

Each club will go into the game tomorrow without its first string fullback Wayne Benson of the Spartans was hurt last week in the 25-0 win over Michigan and John Hlay still is under suspension after a barroom brawl Hlay will be back Monday.

Only one previous game has been played between the two teams In 1912 the Michigan club defeated Ohio State, 35-20

In beating Michigan, the Spartans did something the Buckeyes have been unable to do since 1944 Ohio has scored only 22 points to Michigan's 115 in the six years

ADMITS "PEEPHOLE' SLAYING

SAN FRANCISCO Oct 5—(AP)—Homicide Inspector Frank Ahern said today that Elbert Belote has admitted the 'peephole" slaying of wealthy Allen B Friedman Ahern said the 48-year-old mechanic broke down and confessed when confronted by witnesses who cracked his alibi that he was not in San Francisco the night of the slaying to the credit of the Dudmar agency.

Inquiry

Miss Marguerite Desmond, secretary to Finnegan when he was collector, testified that on Aug. 5, 1949 — the same date Muennig's check was endorsed over to Dudmar—a joint account for $1,486 was opened with Mutual in Dudmar's name with herself, Brodsky and Finnegan as co-signers.

Richard V. Clark Jr., a St. Louis insurance broker, testified he participated with Brodsky in an insurance deal on the basis of a three-way split in commissions.

"Brodsky told me one-third was going to Mr. Finnegan," Clark swore.

Clark, who later had legal difficulties with Brodsky over his share quoted Brodsky as saying Finnegan was "bleeding him white."

Yanks Out To Square Series With Giants After 5-1 Loss

SPECTACULAR CATCH. Giants' Monte Irvin leaps high and makes spectacular grab of home run bid of Yankees' Hank Bauer in left field corner in opening inning of Series game. Catch was made in front of the 402-foot sign.

Irvin, Dark, Koslo Star for Winners

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Oct. 5—(AP)—Leo Durocher's winning gamble with Dave Koslo gave the incredible New York Giants an edge today in their World Series date with destiny—and the New York Yankees.

Apparently Durocher can do no wrong in this most remarkable comeback story in all baseball history. He took a chance with his No. 4 pitcher yesterday and got away with it, 5-1, against Allie Reynolds, who "warmed up" for the series with a no-hitter against the Boston Red Sox.

Now Durocher has Larry Jansen (23-11) ready for today's second game at the stadium. Jim Hearn (17-9), Monday's playoff winner at Brooklyn, is set for Saturday and Sal Maglie (23-6) ready to come back Sunday with three full days rest.

Instead of a weary crew of straggering pitchers Leo has his three best ready to go in order. And the Yanks already have used up the feared Mr. Reynolds. Retreating in confusion from the 8 to 5 odds favoring the Yanks, the market now says 6 to 5 and take your pick.

Control Pitcher

With the Giant array of righthanded batting power, Lefty Eddie Lopat (21-9) is no cinch to square the series for Casey Stengel today. A control pitcher whose stuff usually produces many fly balls, Lopat will have to thread the needle to escape trouble from rioting Bobby Thomson and Monte Irvin.

Despite Koslo's seven-hit mastery, Irvin's prodigious deeds and Alvin Dark's three-run homer, the Giants' opening victory at Yankee Stadium was a drab "morning after" to their glorious pennant clinching of Wednesday.

That man Irvin, finally hitting his stride as one of the great hitters in modern day baseball, really had himself an afternoon yesterday against Reynolds.

All year Durocher has been pointing to Irvin and shouting "that's my man." Now 65,673 fans who didn't quite fill the stadium and millions of radio listeners and television viewers know why.

Monte tied a series record with four hits, one a triple, stole home against Reynolds with the second Giant run in the first inning and contributed two fine catches. What more can a man do in his first World Series game?

Irvin and Koslo were the story until Dark hammered his homer into the left field seats in the sixth. That nailed it down for Koslo, the 31-year-old control artist from Menasha, Wis.

Koslo is known around the National League as the Cardinal killer for his success against St. Louis. Four of his 10 regular season victories were scored over the Cards with their predominantly lefthanded batting order.

Vulnerable to Lefties

Few expected Koslo to throttle the Yanks, although they have been vulnerable to lefthanders all season. Stengel used only two lefty batters—Yogi Berra and Joe Collins. Still, when he needed hits in the late innings he had to resort to three lefthanded pinch hitters. Perhaps that's the tipoff on the current Yankees.

The Giants were completely disrespectful of the Yanks' reputation for winning "the big ones." They ripped into Reynolds for two in the first. A walk to Hank Thompson and an Irvin single set the stage for Whitey Lockman's run scoring double. While Reynolds worked on Bobby Thomson, Irvin dashed across the plate for the first steal of home in a series in 30 years.

In the same inning, Irvin robbed Hank Bauer of a home run with a leaping stab of his long drive near the 402-foot mark on the left field barrier. Two innings later he raced far to his left to drag down Joe DiMaggio's long belt.

A Yankee run in the second on Gil McDougald's double and Gerry Coleman's single, that Hank Thompson also fumbled, closed the gap to 2-1 until Dark lashed his homer following Wes Westrum's single and a walk to Eddie Stanky.

With a righthander going for the Giants, Stengel gave his lineup the old shakewell treatment today. Bobby Brown went to third with McDougald moving to second and Gene Woodling taking over left field.

Once again professor Stengel was face up with the problem of where to put DiMaggio in the order. Joe was shoved down to fifth and Berra batted cleanup against the Cleveland righthanders in late September. When they hit the steady diet of lefthanders in Boston, Joe was back in the No. 4 spot.

Durocher has little hope of playing Don Mueller in the series. The Giant right field regular sprained his ankle in Wednesday's wild ninth inning. Thompson, who did a capable job yesterday, will continue in the outfield, dropping down in the order to let Thomson hit third against "Steady Eddie."

IRVIN LEAPS FOR HOME. Monte Irvin, Giants' leftfielder, goes into slide in first inning as he makes first steal of home in a World Series game in 30 years. Yankees' Yogi Berra has pitch and is stepping in to try to make putout. Bobby Thomson, who was at bat, falls away.

Edison Bows To Galion, 13-6

Edison Junior High School was bumped, 13-6, yesterday by Galion's Junior High gridders in a Tri-City League game.

An early fumble by Edison put the locals in trouble from which they never recovered. On the first play from scrimmage, the fumble was recovered by Galion on the Edison 20-yard line. In three plays, the Galion crew crossed the goal line.

The second Galion score also came in the first period when a loose ball was grabbed in mid-air by a Galion defender. He scooted 60 yards for the TD.

Edison's only score came in the second period when Joe Albinack journeyed 45 yards on an end run.

Rumor Ted Williams Headed for Indians

NEW YORK, Oct. 5—(AP)—Ted Williams, the Boston Red Sox clouter long considered a "million dollar ball player," has been offered for sale to at least four American League teams, it was learned today.

Free-spending Red Sox Owner Tom Yawkey, fed up with the repeated failures of his team, has decided that now is the time to part company with Williams, one of the greatest left-handed hitters in league history and one of the highest paid players ever at $100,000.

The White Sox, Indians, Tigers and at least one other club have already been asked what they would offer for Williams in a trade.

Want Players

A highly-placed White Sox official, who revealed that Williams was "on the market," said that the Red Sox wanted players and not money in return. Since the Sox would want several good, big-name players, this desire would limit the number of teams that could bargain for him.

But it also seemed that several teams which could buy Williams, weren't interested.

The White Sox officials said the Red Sox asking price was "too much."

"We want Williams," he admitted, "in fact, we would give up plenty to get him. But we're building and they're going to want too much. We can't give up four or five of our fine young stars to get him, even though he still is as great a hitter as there is around."

General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Indians denied that he had been approached about Williams, but another source insisted the Indians had, indeed, received a "feeler."

Another Indians spokesman said he felt Cleveland had an "excellent chance" to get Williams and that the deal may even develop during the World Series."

There was speculation that the fourth club to whom Williams was offered might be the Yankees.

There had been speculation several days ago that the Browns might be trying to get Williams in a deal which would send the Brownies' 20-game winning pitcher, Ned Garver, to Boston.

MARIONITE FINED

UPPER SANDUSKY — Wilfred Thiel of Marion, was arrested by Upper Sandusky police Tuesday night for reckless operation of a motor vehicle on Upper Sandusky streets. Thiel was arraigned before Mayor C. M. Beaston and fined $10 and $8.70 in costs.

Redlegs, Cubs In Four-Player Deal

CHICAGO, Oct. 5—(UP)—The Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds swapped catchers and outfielders today in a four-player deal.

The Cubs sent Catcher Forrest (Smoky) Burgess and Outfielder Bob Borkowski to the Reds in exchange for Catcher John Pramesa and Outfielder Bob Usher.

None of the four had outstanding records during the last season. Burgess batted .357 in 94 games, Pramesa .229 in 72 games, Borkowski .165 in 58 games and Usher .207 in 112 games.

Irish Travel To Tiffin For Calvert Game

St. Mary football followers are expected to follow their team to Tiffin tonight when the Fighting Irish take on a strong Tiffin Calvert eleven.

On the basis of their showing in losing to Ashland by only two points last week the Tiffin gridders will rule as favorites.

Coach Ray Robbins' youngsters will be seeking their third victory of the year after scoring wins over Mt. Gilead, and Zanesville Rosecrans before losing to Lima St. Rose last Saturday night here at the stadium.

Mid-Ohio Officials Hold Fourth Meeting

Fourth meeting of the Mid-Ohio Officials Association was held this week at the Highway Motel.

On hand to discuss various football rulings were Bob Allen, Emil Lisak, Francis Bacon, Ralph Simpson, Dick Courted, and Charles Stillings.

ALLIE'S FIRST PITCH IS A BALL. Allie Reynolds, Yankees' pitcher, delivers opening pitch of World Series to Giants' leadoff batter, Eddie Stanky at Yankee Stadium, New York Yankees' catcher is Yogi Berra.

ARCH WARD. The other day Arch Ward, widely-known sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, proposed a plan of coach-swapping to "save" college football from subsidizing.

He wrote in his column, "These practices have spawned a generation of 'gimme' athletes etching a ruinous course that blots out college loyalty . . . the dollar sign runs rampant across the college football fields

SWINGSHIFT STYLE. Ranking second to only Grantland Rice as the dean of American sports writers, Arch Ward outlines his plan thusly

1—The major universities should be divided into groups on the basis of comparable schedules and comparable salaries to their coaching staffs

2—Football coaches in each group could serve a school only one year They then would be "appointed" to another school in the same group for the next year, etc.

Appointment would be made by a committee of athletic directors or university presidents and the identity of the university to which the coach is appointed would not be revealed until Aug 1

3—There would be no spring practice simply because the coach would not be at the same school that fall.

4—The plan would be a challenge to coaches, giving them a chance to work with good material and with bad

5—Coaches' salaries would be equalized but schools would be allowed to give the coach a bonus for superior performance

6—The plan would enable coaches to live more normal lives

ONLY FOOLIN'. Is it possible that Ward is serious? We doubt it There are too many loopholes to go into why the plan would be impractical.

But while others have denounced the over-emphasis on college football and been written off as "singing the same old song" the Chicago editor has put the question where it will get more attention

Someone around the office made the suggestion Why not try it with sports editors.

WE'RE OFF. Fine. We're ready to leave for Chicago on a moment's notice.

"Tough 135," Says Howison

Prexy "Mitey Mite" Set For Fostoria Tonight

The smallest safety man in Buckeye League competition this season, but called the most "durable" by his coach is Harding's Doug Bibler.

Weighing only 135 the 15-year-old sophomore has seen plenty of action for Coach Pete Howison's Prexies in their first three games He has operated as a T-formation quarterback on offense, spelling Chuck Taylor, and safety man on defense

Howison says of Bibler, "He only weighs 135 but it's a tough 135 and he really likes to play football"

Before advancing to the varsity through his showing in spring grid drills, Doug was a standout in junior high school play

He is expected to be one of the busiest players in the stadium tonight when Fostoria moves in for a Buckeye League game Harding won its only other league encounter, over Bowling Green, 19-12

Wolfe Pins Belkas In Armory Bout

Joe Wolfe upset favored Chris Belkas in junior heavyweight title bout last night at the armory.

After being pinned for the first fall by Belkas Wolfe came back to take the final two Belkas, the dethroned title holder, took the first fall after 16 minutes, with a reversed full Nelson Wolfe came back to take the second fall with a cradle hold after 11 minutes

The third fall went to Wolfe when both grapplers fell to the canvas, temporarily stunning themselves Wolfe fell across Belkas long enough for the pin and was declared the new champion.

In a semi-final bout, Eva Lee downed Cora Combs in two straight falls Combs was substituting for Millie Stafford who is hospitalized in Baltimore Lee took the first in 15 minutes with a body press and grabbed the second when Combs was disqualified

Whitey Walberg upset Lone Eagle in the opener He pinned Eagle in 11 minutes with a full Nelson.

Mt. Union Ready For Bowling Green

BOWLING GREEN, O, Oct 5—Nelson "Bully" Jones, former Findlay College coach and Fremont High School star, returns to northwestern Ohio Saturday with his Mt. Union raiders to renew an old rivalry with Bowling Green State University.

With an experienced team led by Bill Erlitz, 1950 all-Ohio halfback, Mentor Jones plans to display a tricky split "T" formation in an effort to gain his first 1951 win Although on the short end of a 28-27 score at Kent State last week in the season's opener, Jones' charges surprised most observers with the same potent attack which earned them a 6-2 record last season, his first as Mt Union head coach.

Jones-coached squads at Findlay College have encountered BG three times, tying once and losing twice to the Falcons The first loss 26-9 in 1947 marred an otherwise perfect season for the Findlay eleven Bowling Green defeated Mt Union, 35-7 in 1949 when "Bully" served as the Raiders assistant coach

Stop "Jolter," Giants Say After Victory

NEW YORK, Oct 5—(UP)—The joyous Giants felt they had found the key to winning the World Series today—"keep the ball away from Joe Di Maggio"

They babbled about their discovery in the clubhouse after yesterday's Yankee conquest and gloated over it triumphantly.

"That's what I did out there all day" revealed Dave Koslo the stocky southpaw who held the American Leaguers to seven hits, "I kept the ball away from him I pitched him high and on the outside",

"He hit the ball good on me only once," Koslo continued "but that was because I let up on him"

In the Yankee clubhouse Di Maggio corroborated Koslo's claim

"He pitched me outside all day," Di Mag offered "he's a clever pitcher and he has pretty good stuff, too"

Keep Book

Leo Durocher, who always insisted that his pitchers keep 'a book" on enemy hitters was pleased by yesterday's results but not completely satisfied.

"Well, we won,' he said simply, "but we still have to take three more"

The Lip was taking the victory calmly enough and so were most of his players

Starting with Koslo who said without prodding, "those Yankees aren't so tough," all the other Giants echoed his sentiments

"I'd give the Yankees a slight edge over the Dodgers," conceded smiling Eddie Stanky, "but only in their pitching, outside of that, there isn't much to choose"

"They're all right, offered Shortstop Alvin Dark, who blasted a homer in the sixth, "but they can be beat."
